

Funk, Walther

(1890--1960), Adolf Hitler's personal advisor on economic affairs, German Minister of Economics from 1937, and president of the state bank (Reichsbank) from 1939. Funk helped confiscate Jewish property and money and transfer them to the SS.