

Stab in the Back Myth

(Dolchstosslegende), groundless myth claiming that the German army had not been defeated militarily in World War I, but rather was forced to stop fighting by the defeatist activities of the liberals, Socialists, and Jews.