

Einstein, Albert

(1897--1955), German Jewish physicist who left Germany when Hitler rose to power in 1933. Einstein postulated the famed "theory of relativity," and won the Nobel Prize in Physics in 1921.