THE YAD VASHEM ENCYCLOPEDIA
OF THE GHETTOS DURING THE HOLOCAUST

Editor-in-Chief: Guy Miron | Co-editor: Shlomit Shulhani

This pioneering project gathers data from research studies, historical information, testimonies and documents dealing with more than 1,100 ghettos throughout mainly Eastern Europe. It reflects the differences between each ghetto and reveals the radical changes in Jewish communal and individual life.

The entries include the location, wartime name and geographical coordinates of each ghetto; and, for the larger ghettos, informational sections on the following: Pre-World War II; Soviet occupation; German (Nazi) occupation; ghetto setup; ghetto institutions and internal life; murder, terror and killing operations of ghetto inhabitants; underground and resistance; and number of survivors at liberation.

Finalist of the 2010 National Jewish Book Award in the category of Holocaust Studies, and selected for the Booklist/RBB Editors’ Choice: Reference Sources Awards.

2 volumes of 500 pp. each + DVD, hard cover, 22X28 cm.

THE LITVAKS

A Short History of the Jews in Lithuania

Dov Levin

Lithuania's Jewish community, famous for centuries as the most important center of Jewish scholarship and birthplace of many national and social movements, has always held a unique place in Jewish history. During the Holocaust, the Jewish community in Lithuania sustained some of the highest losses in Europe. Levin covers medieval times to the postwar period, highlighting periods of Jewish self-rule, the great yeshivot, the Gaon of Vilna, the Jewish nationalist movements, and more. Winner of the 2002 Beautiful Book Award for its splendid design from the Israel Institute for Packaging and Product Logistics.

THE ENCYCLOPEDIA OF THE RIGHTEOUS AMONG THE NATIONS

Rescuers of Jews during the Holocaust

Editor-in-Chief: Israel Gutman

Hard cover, 22X28 cm.

The concept of “Righteous Among the Nations” is based on the Talmudic saying, “He who saves one human being is as if he saves an entire world”.

The more than 23,000 Righteous Among the Nations are from all nationalities, religious denominations, and social groups, each with a deeply human story of the preservation of human values in the midst of absolute moral collapse.

“In the darkness of the Nazi occupation, a few lights flickered: the Righteous Among the Nations… Yad Vashem has commemorated those who risked their lives, who heeded nothing but their hearts and their human conscience, and who rescued Jews.” [Jacques Chirac, former President of France]

A MAN OF COURAGE IN AN INHUMAN TIME
Berthold Beitz in the Third Reich

Bernd Schmalhausen | Translator: William Templer

In July 1941, a young German man, Berthold Beitz, came to Borysław in eastern Galicia to take up the position of business manager in an oil refinery. There he witnessed the ongoing destruction of the Jews. Unhesitatingly, he requested that the Jews be handed over to him as indispensable skilled workers, thus he succeeded in rescuing several hundred Jews from the death trains bound for the Belzec extermination camp.

AT THE MERCY OF STRANGERS
The Rescue of Jewish Children with Assumed Identities in Poland

Nahum Bogner | Translator: Ralph Mandel

The book discusses the rescue of children who lived and survived under assumed identities in Poland among various strands of the Christian population – in towns, in villages and in convents – as well as the efforts made by various bodies after the war to locate the children. The author describes how the emotional closeness so essential for survival made it so hard for the children to leave their host families after the war.

BELGIUM AND THE HOLOCAUST
Jews, Belgians, Germans

Editor: Dan Michman

A broad range of scholars discuss issues such as the make-up of Belgium Jewry before the war; the Nazi anti-Jewish policies; the attitudes of various segments of Belgian society to the Jews; the Jewish strategies and activities for survival; the contacts with the Yishuv in Eretz Israel; emigration to the United States; and the policies of postwar commemoration.

CHELMNO: A SMALL VILLAGE IN EUROPE
The First Nazi Mass Extermination Camp

Shmuel Krakowski | Translator: Ralph Mandel

This is the only study on Chelmno, the first death camp on Polish soil and the model for setting up the machinery of mass murder. Mass killings, mostly of Lodz Jews and gypsies, began in December 1941 and continued until the Red Army liberated the camp in January 1945. Only a few who operated the death camp were ever brought to justice.

CONSCRIPTED SLAVES
Hungarian Jewish Forced Laborers on the Eastern Front during the Second World War

Robert Rozett

From the spring of 1942 until the summer of 1944, some 45,000 Jewish men were forced to accompany Hungarian troops to the battle zone of the Former Soviet Union. Most of them fell prey to battle, starvation, disease, and labor, aggravated by brutality and murder at the hands of the Hungarian soldiers. This book deals with this issue that is integral to understanding the destruction of Hungarian Jewry in the Holocaust.

DAYS OF RUIN
The Jews of Munkács During the Holocaust

Raz Segal | Translator: Naftali Greenwood

The book provides a comprehensive account of the tragic fate of the Jews of Munkács from the incorporation of the town in Hungary to the deportation of the overwhelming majority of the community to their deaths in Auschwitz. The book documents how this mass murder was carried out by the Hungarian Police Force and Army with a limited German assistance.

DENUNCIATION AND RESCUE
Dutch Society and the Holocaust

Pinchas Bar-Efrat | Translator: Naftali Greenwood

The book examines the attitude of the Dutch authorities toward the Jews during the Nazi occupation and particularly that of the directors of the various government ministries, as well as of the ministers of the government-in-exile, and of Dutch society in general. The author surveys the activities of the Dutch police and, in contrast, the important actions of the Dutch resistance and the individuals who concealed Jews and assisted them.

DISPLACED PERSONS AT HOME
Refugees in the Fabric of Jewish Life in Warsaw, September 1939 – July 1942

Lea Prais | Translator: Naftali Greenwood

With the occupation of Poland, the Germans began to deport Jews from small towns and villages to larger Jewish communities and Ghettoes. A large portion of the deportees were concentrated in Warsaw and pressed into the confines of the ghetto. Many succumbed to death from hunger, disease and infection. The book deals with the implications of the deportations on the life of the Jews in the Warsaw Ghetto.

DIVIDING HEARTS
The Removal of Jewish Children from Gentile Families in Poland in the Immediate Post Holocaust Years

Emunah Nachmany Gafny | Translator: Naftali Greenwood

Research on issues involved in the search for hidden Jewish children in the postwar period in Poland raises questions such as: Why did several organizations come into being for the same purpose? How did they operate? How did the Polish courts deal with the issue? What was the stance of the Church? How did the children react to the transition?

EUROPE IN THE EYES OF SURVIVORS OF THE HOLOCAUST

Editors: Zeev Mankowitz, David Weinberg, Sharon Kangisser Cohen

In what sense was the European heritage responsible for Jewish cultural and intellectual development? How could one describe the events of the Holocaust? Was there a future for Jews in a reconstructed Europe? A group of scholars suggests a more nuanced view by examining the perspectives of ten survivors – philosophers, activists, and memoirists – whose attitudes towards the European past were characterized by conflicting feelings.

GATES OF TEARS
The Holocaust in the Lublin District
David Silberklang
This book examines the Shoah in the Lublin District. Its analysis traces forced population movements and forced labor, constants in German policy, the bitter early memory of which influenced Jews’ later actions. Many hid or fled the deportations, fearing an extreme return of earlier experience. Lublin was a contradictory district – few ghettos yet little survival.

HIDING, SHELTERING, AND BORROWING IDENTITIES
Avenues of Rescue during the Holocaust
Editor: Dan Michman
During the 1960s and 1970s, the rescue of Jews started to attract the attention of scholars, and the initiation of Yad Vashem’s recognition program for the Righteous Among the Nations also drew public attention to the acts of individual rescuers in areas under Nazi control. Yad Vashem’s 18th biannual conference brought together international scholars to discuss new approaches on the topic. This volume provides an overview of the multifaceted landscape of academic studies on the rescuers and the rescued.

HITLER’S VOLKSGEMEINSCHAFT
AND THE DYNAMICS OF RACIAL EXCLUSION
Violence against Jews in Provincial Germany, 1919–1939

Michael Wildt | Translator: Bernard Heise

Once Hitler seized power his creation of a socially inclusive Volksgemeinschaft promising equality and prosperity persuaded many Germans to support him and to shut their eyes to dictatorial coercion and secret state police. This book offers one of the most comprehensive accounts of this transformation.

I HAVE BEEN A STRANGER IN A STRANGE LAND
The Hungarian State and Jewish Refugees in Hungary, 1933–1945
Kinga Frojimovics
Pre-dating the German occupation and the appearance of the Eichmann Commando, a Hungarian state “dejewification commando”, the National Central Alien Control Office, was already in operation. It regarded the 20,000–25,000 foreign Jews residing in Hungary as a category that could be enlarged to include all Jews deemed “undesirable” by the state.

IT KEPT US ALIVE
Humor in the Holocaust
Chaya Ostrower | Translator: Sandy Bloom
The book demonstrates how humor helped in coping with the terrible reality of the Holocaust period. Interviews with survivors describe horrific events intertwined with macabre humor. The author classifies the types of humor and jokes, and studies their respective functions in the ghettos, concentration camps and death camps. Included in the book are humorous ditties, songs and cabaret sketches, as well as the unique stories of two ghetto clowns.

PARIAHS AMONG PARIAHS
Soviet-Jewish POWs in German Captivity, 1941–1945
Aron Shneyer | Translator: Yisrael Cohen
More than 6 million soldiers became POWs in camps operated by Nazi Germany. Western Allies were mostly treated in accordance to the international treaties, while members of the Polish Army and the Red Army were exposed to cruelty, slave labor and murder. Amongst them, the Jewish prisoners suffered the most. This book details the complexity of one of the most brutal chapters of the Holocaust period.

PIUS XII AND THE HOLOCAUST
Current State of Research
Editors: David Bankier, Dan Michman, Iael Nidam-Orvieto
Dilemmas, silence, active rescue, and passivity are words associated with Pius XII. “Critics” emphasize the wartime Pope’s failure to condemn Nazism, while "defenders" maintain that Vatican neutrality facilitated rescue activities by the faithful. This publication attempts to present the current state of research on Pius XII and the Holocaust, based on new documentation.

PRELUDE TO MASS MURDER
The Pogrom in Iaşi, Romania, June 29, 1941 and Thereafter
Jean Ancel | Translator: Fern Seckbach
June 29, 1941. The beginning of the murder of about 15,000 Jews in Iaşi in riots instigated by the fascist Romanian regime of Ion Antonescu. This was but a prelude to the genocide of the Jews of Romania. The thousands of Jews who remained alive in the city were crowded into two “death trains” and deported, with most dying of hunger and thirst. Based on rich documentation, the book recreates the events from the Jewish viewpoint.

SUCH A BEAUTIFUL SUNNY DAY…
Jews Seeking Refuge in the Polish Countryside, 1942–1945

Barbara Engelking | Translator: Jerzy Michalowicz

This study sheds light on the struggle of the Jews who escaped to the Polish countryside. Many of them encountered a hostile environment and in cases where they found refuge with Polish families who took them in, the dangers for both the Jews and their rescuers grew more acute as time passed. Based on a large number of documents, the book tells the untold story of Jewish struggle for survival in a complex landscape of fear, betrayal and death.

TESTIMONY AND TIME
Holocaust Survivors Remember

Sharon Kangisser Cohen

The book examines the development of individual survivor testimony in order to identify if the changing context influences survivors’ accounts of their past. Early accounts were taken in the immediate post-war years and latter interviews were conducted over 50 years later. Analysis of these texts demonstrates a remarkable resilience of the survivors’ memory, and reveals an important shift in the way survivors interpret their experiences over time.

THE END OF 1942
A Turning Point in World War II and in the Comprehension of the Final Solution?

Editors: Dina Porat and Dan Michman in cooperation with Haim Saadoun

During the second half of 1942, several events led to an initial understanding of the scope of the killings, and additional sources indicated the shift to the industrial extermination. As a result, the Allies and Jewish organizations published their first official statements on the murder operations. Yad Vashem’s 19th biannual conference gathered scholars to discuss this topic. This volume provides new insights on that critical phase of the war.

THE KASZTNER REPORT

The Report of the Budapest Jewish Rescue Committee 1942–1945

Rezső Kasztner | Editors: László Karsai and Judit Molnár
Translators: Ruth Morris and György Novák

A leader of the Budapest Jewish Rescue Committee, Kasztner became the point man for negotiations with the SS to save Hungarian Jewry. In the 1950s many in Israel vilified him for “selling out” his Jewish brethren. Kasztner was assassinated in Tel Aviv following a spectacular postwar libel trial. Today scholars see him in a different light and his Report is one of the main reasons.

THE HISTORY OF THE HOLOCAUST IN ROMANIA
Jean Ancel | Editor: Leon Volovici | Translator: Yaffah Murciano

The Romanians related differently to “their Jews” and “other Jews” – those living in districts annexed to Romania after WWI and in areas annexed to the Romanian military administration after the Soviet invasion. The Jews of the Regat suffered pogroms and degradation, but on the whole they survived the Holocaust. Of all of Nazi Germany’s allies, Romania most contributed to the Jewish people extermination.

THE ORIGINS OF THE FINAL SOLUTION
The Evolution of Nazi Jewish Policy, September 1939 – March 1942
Christopher R. Browning

In 1939 the Nazi regime made plans to re-draw the demographic map of Eastern Europe and expel millions of Jews. By late 1941 the plans had shifted from expulsion to systematic and total mass murder of all Jews. This book analyzes the ways the Nazis’ racial policies evolved from ethnic cleansing to the Final Solution.

Linda Margittai

A comparative presentation of case studies on the implementation of Hungary’s antisemitic state policies in two towns in southern Hungary. This paper shows that Hungary’s anti-Jewish policies were a result of its own antisemitic laws that came into effect from 1938 envisaged a social and economic “changing of the guard”.

THE POLITICAL CAREER OF MÁRTON HORVÁTH, 1906–1987
Bálint Horváth

An outline of the remarkable career of Márton Horváth, a journalist and a Communist politician. This paper explores an unusual motif in political history: a leading politician who stood up to the very power structure of which he was a part.
PARENTHOOD AND THE HOLOCAUST
Dan Bar-On and Julia Chaitin
The focus of this study is on the emotional coping abilities of Jewish families who came under Nazi attack and destruction, as well as on the ongoing, long-term impairment of the surviving families’ emotional relationships, which affected not only the victims, but their children and grandchildren as well.

GENERATION OF THE UNBOUND
The Leadership Corps of the Reich Security Main Office
Michael Wildt
This article analyzes the biographies of 221 people who represent the leadership corps that worked on the front line of the Reich Security Main Office between 1939–1945. The study, which reveals a common ground between these young intellectuals, focuses on the question of how they could have become murderers.

THE INVENTION OF “FUNCTIONALISM”
Josef Wulf, Martin Broszat, and the Institute for Contemporary History (Munich) in the 1960s
Nicolas Berg
This study describes early postwar efforts to “explain” National Socialism, soon supplanted by structural approaches known as “functionalism”, a highly popular concept in the 1970s. It presents the history of the concept, its concrete German context, impact and interpretation, and proposes a new model.

HOLOCAUST DIARIES AS “LIFE STORIES”
Amos Goldberg
Drawing on linguistics, philosophy, epistemology, cultural politics, life stories theory and more, Goldberg explores how these subjects function in Holocaust diaries and the paradox of narrating a process of “ceasing to exist as a human being” under the Nazis, and how does the construction of human identity through narration occur in a situation of brutal, meaningless violence.

REASSESSMENT OF THE IMAGE OF MORDECHAI CHAIM RUMKOWSKI
Michal Unger
Michal Unger surveys the “gray areas” of still-controversial figure Rumkowski. Will history judge him as a traitor who aided and abetted the Germans in liquidating the Jews of Lodz, or should he be seen as a tragic heroic figure who tried to delay death by employing as many children as possible in the workshop system he set up?
ASPECTS OF JEWISH WELFARE IN NAZI GERMANY
Proceedings of a study day on the occasion of the publication of Rivka Elkin’s book “The Heart Beats On”

Guy Miron, Jacob Borut, Rivka Elkin
The volume discusses the Jewish welfare system under the Nazi regime, and includes the following articles: “The German and the German-Jewish Welfare Systems and the Nazi Policy of Oppression”, “A Historical Perspective on Jewish Welfare Activity in Germany”, “Some Remarks in the Wake of My Book The Heart Beats On”.

Volume 7 (2006, 70 pp.)
ISBN: 965-308-257-4, Cat. No. 426

PERSECUTION, INDIFFERENCE, AND AMNESIA
The restoration of Jewish rights in postwar Italy

Ilaria Pavan
The author discusses the sensitive issue of the postwar restitution of Jewish property in Italy looted during WWII. Lacking a system for the automatic return of assets, the reconstruction policies included a cover-up of the local role played in the antisemitic past and persecutions, creating enormous obstacles.

Volume 8 (2006, 44 pp.)

THE SHAPING OF THE HOLOCAUST VISUAL IMAGE BY THE NUREMBERG TRIALS
The Impact of the Movie “Nazi Concentration Camps”

Yvonne Kozlovsky-Golan
The article focuses on history and cinema, the memory of the Holocaust and its penetration into the consciousness through film, the representation of the Holocaust survivor in Israeli feature films, and the visual iconography of the camps.

ISBN: 965-308-277-9, Cat. No. 2779

“AND I BURNED WITH SHAME”
The Testimony of Ona Šimaitė: A Letter to Isaac Nachman Steinberg

Julija Šukys
Julija Šukys presents a letter written by a woman recognized as Righteous Among the Nations and former librarian at Vilnius University to Nachman Steinberg, the author of a number of books, a Socialist Revolutionary, and the Commissar of Justice in the Soviet Coalition government of 1917. This letter is unique and describes in details her activities during the Nazi occupation of Vilnius.

Volume 10 (2007, 84 pp.)

RIGHTEOUS AMONG THE NATIONS IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM
A Silent Resistance

Jeannine (Levana) Frenk
Rescuers in France and Belgium show a more rural and lower socioeconomic character than in other countries. Using the tools of “prosopography”, an approach concerning itself with the person, environment and social status in the context of social structures, and the functions performed by the rescuer, the author discusses additional parameters for broader perspectives.

Volume 12 (2008, 92 pp.)

RESCUE FOR MONEY
Paid Helpers in Poland, 1939–1945

Jan Grabowski
Jan Grabowski describes the enterprise of hiding Jews during the Holocaust in Poland. The current study discusses sheltering Jews in exchange for money as an attempt to act normally in an abnormal situation; those who took money and turned on their “guests” when the money ran out; methodology of help; denunciations; the price and extent of help; specific court cases.

Volume 13 (2008, 62 pp.)
JEWISH CHILDREN IN NAZI-OCCUPIED POLAND
Early Postwar Recollections of Survival and Polish-Jewish Relations During the Holocaust

Joanna Beata Michlic

Through an in-depth textual analysis of eyewitness testimonies, the author reconstructs various categories of child survivors and the ways in which they coped with social relations on the Aryan side in Nazi-occupied Poland, using concepts of “performance” pioneered by Goffman.

Volume 14 (2008, 100 pp.)

THE MURDER OF THE JEWS AND POPULAR CONSENT
German Society During the Nazi Dictatorship

Ulrich Herbert

The National-Socialist state developed a dichotomy between different sections of German society. The current essay discusses the relationship between the privileged in German society and those defined as unequal and inferior, and the extent of realization of the postulate of “equality” among German Volksgenossen in practice.

Volume 22 (2015, 44 pp.)

BARBARIANS FROM OUR “KULTURKREIS”
German-Jewish Perceptions of Nazi Perpetrators

Mark Roseman

This essay seeks to explore German Jews’ understanding of the perpetrators as part of the efforts to write an integrated history of the Holocaust, and suggests that the absence of the perpetrators from German Jewish accounts is a result of the trauma they suffered from the betrayal by their fellow citizens. The article deals with the experience of Kristallnacht and the internment of German Jewish men in the concentration camps.

Editor: David Silberklang

Yad Vashem Studies is an academic journal featuring articles on the cutting edge of research and reflection on the Holocaust.

Yad Vashem Studies is a must for any serious library seeking to offer the essential texts on the Nazi era and the Holocaust.

“Yad Vashem Studies has been at the forefront of research into the Nazi persecution and mass murder of the Jews, its origins and its consequences… indispensable for researchers and teachers alike. David Silberklang, as editor, has displayed a remarkable talent for balancing the output of grizzled veterans with the challenging findings of younger researchers… No library that purports to offer students and teachers the essential historical texts on the Nazi era and the fate of the Jews can afford to be without Yad Vashem Studies.” [David Cesarani, The Journal of Holocaust Education]

Beginning with volume 35, Yad Vashem Studies comes out twice annually, in spring and fall, making our contributors’ important research available to our readers more quickly and more readily. We have also redone our layout in order to make it more reader friendly. Our rigorous high standards remain unchanged.
This issue highlights local attitudes to the Jews during and after the Holocaust and the extensive use of oral history as a primary source. Among its articles: Jan Grabowski and Dariusz Libionka deconstruct the new museum in Markowa on Poles who saved Jews during the Holocaust; Yuri Radchenko on Ukrainian memory of local participation in the Holocaust in the Donbas region; Bart van der Boom challenges some recent research on Dutch attitudes to the Holocaust; Jiří Friedl on Czechoslovakian attitudes toward Jews fleeing postwar Poland; and Anna Maria Droumpouki on the modest successes and significant failures of Holocaust restitution efforts in Greece. The issue also includes review articles by Omer Bartov on Christian Gerlach’s attempt at a new comprehensive history of the Holocaust; Amos Goldberg on Lea Prais’s book on Jewish refugees in the Warsaw ghetto; and Efraim Zuroff on Michael Bazyler and Frank Turkheimer’s book on forgotten Holocaust trials.

This issue includes articles by Ian Kershaw and Otto Dov Kulka on the late Eberhard Jäckel’s contribution to Holocaust scholarship, as well as five research articles and five reviews. Four articles address the Holocaust in Poland: Frank Grelka on German civilian-run forced-labor camps in the Chełm region; Idit Gil on Jewish forced-labor in the Radom District; Daniel Uziel on early wartime German media reporting about Jews; and Rachel Feldhay Brenner on the antisemitic beliefs and vigorous rescue efforts of Zofia Kossak-Szczyzucka. Boaz Cohen completes the research section with his analysis of the research infrastructure created by Holocaust survivor historians after the war. The review articles in this issue include: Richard I. Cohen on Shannon Fogg’s book on looting, restitution and rebuilding Jewish lives in France; Dennis Deletant on Simon Geissbühler’s edited book of new research on Romania; Ricky Law on Meron Medzini’s book on Japan and the Jews during the Holocaust; Richards Plavnieks on Anton Weiss-Wendt’s book of articles on Estonia; and Haim Saadoun on Mehnaz Afirdi’s Shoah Through Muslim Eyes.
SELECTED ARTICLES:

VOLUME 12 (1977): Daniel Carpi, “The Diplomatic Negotiations over the Transfer of Jewish Children from Croatia to Turkey and Palestine in 1943”.

VOLUME 27 (1999): António Louçã and Ansgar Schäfer, “Portugal and the Nazi Gold: The Lisbon Connection in the Sales of Looted Gold by the Third Reich”.

AFTER SO MUCH PAIN AND ANGUISH
First Letters after Liberation

Editors: Robert Rozett and Iael Nidam-Orvieto

Written in the immediate aftermath of liberation by Holocaust survivors and soldiers, these letters reflect the mixed emotions of the survivors – the sigh of relief intertwined with the anguish of irreparable loss. This compilation of letters comprises a powerful, firsthand testimony, forming an important document of the most horrific period of the 20th Century.

Heniek (Hersz) Fogel was 16 years old when the Nazis invaded Poland. Like most Jews in Łódź, Yiddish was his first language; however, he was educated in Polish, and his diary was written in Polish.

Being a 19-year-old young man when he started writing, Fogel could maturely describe life in the Łódź Ghetto. Although the first few pages of the diary are missing, it gives a detailed account that covers two years beginning in March 1942 and ending with the last entry in May 1944. During those difficult days, Heniek recorded harsh portions of the ghetto experience – the devastating deportation of his brother and the death of his father, the overwhelming hunger endured and other tribulations of his family and friends, as well as internal ghetto politics and rumors about the political situation outside the ghetto.

Before being deported to Auschwitz Concentration Camp in August 1944, along with his mother and sister, Heniek hid the diary under the floorboards of the apartment in which they were living. After surviving Auschwitz and other concentration camps, he returned to Łódź where he retrieved the diary from the exact place he had left it.

When Beni Virtzberg was 9 years old, Kristallnacht destroyed his carefree childhood in his home town of Hamburg. Along with his parents, he was transported to Sosnowiec. Nazi Germany invaded Poland and the family shared the fate of many other Jews: internment in a ghetto, followed by deportation to Auschwitz. Beni’s mother was murdered upon arrival. The young boy bravely fought to save his father’s life, but he ultimately lost him as well. Beni’s own fight for survival led him from Auschwitz, where he was forced to assist Joseph Mengele, to the death marches and to the notorious camps of Mauthausen and Melk.

Upon liberation, Beni immigrated to Eretz Israel, joined the Palmach, and fought in some of the fiercest battles during Israel’s War of Independence. During the Eichmann Trial, Beni decided to bear witness by writing his painful memoirs. The work on the book and the constant reminders of his agonizing past and losses took a great toll on him. On August 4, 1968, Beni Virtzberg took his own life.

One of the Few: A Resistance Fighter and Educator, 1939–1947

Neomi Izhar | Translator: Naftali Greenwood

Chasia Bornstein-Bielicka grew up in Grodno, Poland. During the German occupation, she enlisted in the combat resistance and was sent to Białystok. There she became a liaison with the partisans, moving ammunition, medicines, food and information to the Białystok forests. When the war ended, Chasia opened the first children’s home of the Koordynacja for the Redemption of Jewish Children. She migrated with the children along the route of the Bricha to Germany, France, and then to Eretz Israel.

HOME IS NO MORE
The Destruction of Kosow and Zabie

Danek Gertner and Jehoschua Gertner | Translator: William Templer

The story of two small Jewish communities in Eastern Galicia and their bitter end is told by two eyewitnesses. Jehoschua Gertner was a leading figure in the Jewish community of Kosow. His testimony is important in view of the role he played as a member of the local Judenrat. Jehoschua's nephew, Danek from Zabie, was the offspring of an affluent and well-educated family, whose home became a meeting place for Jewish intellectuals and Zionists.

THE SOLDIER WITH THE GOLDEN BUTTONS
Miriam Steiner-Aviezer | Translator: Miriam Arad
The book presents a child's eye view of the Holocaust. It is the story of Jewish children wrenched from a carefree childhood to be overwhelmed by the brutal savagery of war. A few days are enough to turn them into adults forced to contend with hunger and thirst, fear and death, and with the horror of being taken away from their mothers. Only their inner world of childlike imagination, of dreams and fairy tales, can help them confront reality while maintaining their innocence. The author, a teacher by profession, was in charge of Jewish youth and cultural activities among the Jewish communities of postwar Yugoslavia. She immigrated to Israel in 1971.

TIN SOLDIER IN A CARDBOARD BOX
A Young Boy in Hiding: Austria-Belgium-France
Ari Livne | Translator: Ora Cummings
Born in Vienna, Henri's life changed irrevocably when he was eight years old. After escaping with his parents to Belgium, he was taken in by Aunt Angele, a local woman living in Brussels. Henri adopted a false identity as a French-speaking Christian boy and his acting abilities and dissimulation and improvisation skills helped him escape from nearly fatal traps time and again. In times of danger Henri would hide in a dugout in the garden. During the hours spent there, he relied on his vivid imagination to transport himself to a world of fantasy. With psychological depth and unrelenting tension, the complex relationship between his adopted and his real identity is described during the daily fight for survival.

WE ARE WITNESSES
Zvi Asaria-Hermann Helfgott
The author, PhD, rabbi and Yugoslav Army officer in World War II, spent four years in Germany among the 450 Yugoslavian Jewish officers who were prisoners of war. With distinct literary skill, the author paints a broad scene of those days and delineates fine-tooled descriptions of the atmosphere engulfing the captive Jewish officers, Bergen-Belsen after liberation and the survivors’ struggle for a new life. While steeped in the Nazi inferno, he offered the prisoners encouragement and consolation, celebrated the Jewish holidays, fostered the study of Hebrew and Jewish history and reinforced the survivors’ faith in the destiny of the Jewish People. After liberation, he devoted great effort in the DP camps and organized survivors for their immigration to the Land of Israel.

LOCKED IN THE DARKNESS

Retrieving a Hidden Girl’s Identity from the Holocaust

Sabina Heller

Desperate to save their infant daughter Sabina from being murdered with Radziwiłłow’s Jews, her parents gave her to Christian neighbors before going into hiding, but they were found and murdered. The foster family was neglectful, so the Roztropowiczes took Sabina in and gave her a warm, loving home. After the war they were persuaded by Jewish representatives to restore Sabina to her people. At the Łódź orphanage Sabina was adopted by the Goszczewskis and they moved to Israel. After her mother’s death, Sabina reconstructed her past and reconnected with her Polish family who were honored as Righteous Among the Nations.

A PHYSICIAN INSIDE
THE WARSAW GHETTO, 1939–1943

Mordechai Lensky | Foreword by Samuel Kassow

A gripping account of a Jewish doctor in the Warsaw ghetto, struggling against all odds to provide medical care to a community condemned to squalor, disease, and death. The memoir also provides singular insights into many aspects of ghetto life, including the massive building of bunkers in late 1942 and early 1943. The Lensky family escaped the ghetto in March 1943 and hid on the “Aryan” side of Warsaw under assumed identities.

BY THE GRACE OF STRANGERS
Two Boys’ Rescue During the Holocaust

Gabriel Mermall; Norbert Yasharoff | Foreword by David Silberklang

Includes two father-son rescue stories. Mermall’s diary relates his story as a slave laborer in the Hungarian military’s Labor Service, and his rescue in 1944 together with his son. Eleven-year-old Yasharoff was forced to move with his family into the Sofia Ghetto, an experience that inspired him to express himself through poetry.

DAYS OF RAIN

Enzo Tayar

Drawing on the diary that he kept for the year 1943, Enzo Tayar recounts the impact on his family and friends of the increasingly severe anti-Jewish measures instituted by Italy after the German invasion. Tayar fled Florence taking refuge on a succession of farms throughout Tuscany. After liberation the family was reunited, and Tayar served as a U.S. Army interpreter, taking part in the interrogation of Fascists as a prelude to postwar prosecutions.

ESCAPING HELL IN TREBLINKA

Israel Cymlich; Oskar Strawczynski | Foreword by David Silberklang

Two remarkable documents written by two survivors of that hellish darkness while the authors were still in hiding, unsure if they would succeed in evading the Nazis. Cymlich’s memoir provides a rare insight into the Treblinka I forced labor camp’s brutal daily life. Strawczynski’s memoir is one of the earliest written eyewitness accounts of the August 1943 uprising in Treblinka. Both men owed their survival to their own daring and initiative as well as to the assistance they received from a variety of people, including Polish rescuers.

FIGHTING FOR SURVIVAL
E. H. (Dan) Kampelmacher | Foreword by Dan Michman
This is the story of an 18-year-old boy who left his family and fled his native Vienna to Holland. There, as an illegal refugee, he was imprisoned in the state prison at Veenhuizen, where he wrote a diary relating his experiences in 1938 in Vienna and Holland. The book goes on to tell of his survival during the war working on Dutch farms, acquiring forged documents from the underground, and in hiding.

FLORA, I WAS BUT A CHILD
Flora M. Singer | Foreword by Martin Gilbert
This is the gripping story of a young girl hidden with her two little sisters in convents in Belgium during the Holocaust. Their mother’s remarkable intuition and initiative, together with the selfless assistance and vigilance of two Righteous Among the Nations, George Ranson and Père (Father) Bruno, helped save them. The entire family survived. Flora’s story is one of the uncommon cases where good triumphed over absolute evil in the Holocaust.

GUARDED BY ANGELS
How My Father and Uncle Survived Hitler and Cheated Stalin
Alan Elsner | Foreword by David Cesarani
This is the story of two Jewish brothers forced to flee their home in Southern Poland in 1939. Arrested by Soviet authorities in Lwow, they were transported to labor camps north of the Arctic Circle. Near death from starvation, they were released after 18 months and traveled thousands of miles across the Soviet Union, passing through Central Asia, before finding refuge in a Cossack village in the Caucasus. They were drafted into the Red Army, and participated in the Soviet advance through Poland and into Germany.

IN THE SHADOW OF DEATH
Joseph Foxman | Foreword by Abraham Foxman
Joseph Foxman’s memoir is brief yet poignant. The fear and trembling in the ghettos in occupied Lithuania, the brutality of work brigades, the determination to save his newborn son Abraham, given to a Catholic woman who baptized him, the thousand ways of avoiding death. Foxman said he recited the Gomel prayer – the traditional Jewish blessing of thanks to God by one who has survived a dangerous experience – dozens of times each day.

IN THE STRUGGLE
Memoirs from Grodno and the Forests
Leib Reizer | Foreword by Martin Gilbert
A memoir of Grodno and Reizer’s successful escape to the forests with his wife and young daughter, where they survived with partisans and in family camps. In riveting prose Reizer describes ghetto life in Grodno and in Minsk, the liquidation, and his family’s escape after he stole guns and ammunition for the partisans in the forests.

MEMOIRS OF AN UNFORTUNATE PERSON
The Diary of Moty Stromer
Moty Stromer | Foreword by David Silberklang
Marek (Moty) Stromer lived with his entire family in Kamionka until the outbreak of WWII. His memoirs recount his experiences in the Lemberg ghetto, the vicious treatment he suffered at the hands of local Ukrainians, his imprisonment in the Janowska forced labor camp, his escape from a deportation transport to the Belzec death camp, and ultimate rescue in the barn of his Christian neighbor from Kamionka.

ON THE FIELDS OF LONELINESS
Hersch Altman | Foreword by Shimon Redlich
The remarkable memoir of a young boy who survived the murder of his family and the destruction of his town while evading his pursuers. Hersch Altman vividly depicts his early years in Brzeżany and the hardships of the Soviet occupation. He relates the brutality of the Nazi occupation, the intolerable life in the ghetto, the horrors of the Aktionen, and the ingeniously constructed bunker that eluded the Nazi soldiers and their dogs.

PATH OF HOPE
Menachem Katz | Foreword by Shimon Redlich
Menachem Katz relates his escape from the mowing down of the last Jews of Brzeżany at the cemetery in 1943 through his experiences hiding in a bunker with seven other people. He describes life in hiding in detail, as well as the relationship with a family of Poles who assisted them in survival, and relates the severe difficulties of daily existence in the closed and crowded spaces, alongside some moments of humor. Katz succeeded in locating members of the Polish family that saved him, and they were honored as Righteous Among the Nations.
REMEMBER
My Stories of Survival and Beyond
Marcel Tuchman | Foreword by Deborah E. Lipstadt

Tuchman recounts dramatic tales of his often brutal always compelling experiences as a youth in Eastern Europe during the Holocaust and its aftermath. The story carries us from the Przemyśl ghetto and slave labor in the Auschwitz death camp to his experiences attending university in post-war Germany, filled with characters both good and evil, all of whom played a role in his survival.

SEASONS IN THE DARK
The Road from Przemysl to Nazi Hell
Leon Frim

Leon Frim was a lawyer and a talented artist in Przemysl, Poland. Throughout his rich, compelling account from loss of freedom under Soviet occupation to hell under the Germans, we sense Leon’s desperate efforts to save his family, we follow his struggle through the Przemysl ghetto and three Nazi murder operations, his pain through a long series of camps, a death march, and the final internment in Buchenwald.

STOLEN YOUTH
Five Women’s Survival in the Holocaust
Isabelle Choko-Sztrauch-Galewska; Frances Irwin; Lotti Kahana Aufleger; Margit Raab Kalina; Jane Lipski

Includes the memoirs of five young women. The paths of some of them crossed in Auschwitz, Bergen-Belsen, and elsewhere. Each woman tells the story of her survival and the fate of her family, from Poland, Transnistria, Czech Silesia, the Soviet Union, Slovakia, and other countries, to liberation.

YESTERDAY
My Story
Hadassah Rosensaft | Introduction by Elie Wiesel

Dr. Rosensaft, imprisoned in Auschwitz-Birkenau and Bergen-Belsen, kept 149 Jewish children alive until liberation, and then served as administrator of the camp’s hospital. She was a leader of the Jewish DP in the British Zone of Germany, was one of the witnesses at the first trial of Nazi war criminals, and played a pivotal role in the creation of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum.

FLASHES OF MEMORY
Photography during the Holocaust

Head Curator: Vivian Uria

This exhibition presents visual documentation of the Holocaust from three perspectives: the Germans, the Jewish victims, and the liberators, while emphasizing the different but unique perspectives of the Jewish photographers. As far as visual documentation is used as a historical document, its use requires reference to the details of the facts, therefore, the photographs and films presented here are accompanied by details and explanations of the documenting photographers’ worldview, the circumstances that led them to their selection of the photographed objects, and their purpose.

THEY SAY THERE IS A LAND
Longing for Eretz Israel during the Holocaust

Head Curator: Vivian Uria

The exhibition presents the longings for Eretz Israel felt by Jews from the rise of the Nazi party to power in Germany, through the outbreak of World War II and the destruction of European Jewry, and until the end of the war and the establishment of the State of Israel. Artworks, artifacts, diaries, letters and testimonies collected over the years at Yad Vashem give expression to the experiences, feelings and yearnings of those who created and bore them, and open a window to their inner world in the shadow of the events.

THE LAST GHETTO
Life in the Lodz Ghetto, 1940–1944

Editor: Michal Unger
The Lodz Ghetto, sealed in May 1940, was one of the first ghettos established by the Germans, and the longest-lived in Eastern Europe. Because of its remarkable productivity, it survived until late August 1944, and was the last ghetto in occupied Poland to be liquidated. This monograph presents photographs and documents from Lodz, including elements typical of other ghettos in Poland as well as aspects that are particular to Lodz alone.

Radom and Szydłowiec Through the Eyes of a German Photographer

Editors: Bella Gutterman and Nina Springer-Aharoni

The photographic album of Radom and the nearby community of Szydłowiec is the work of an unknown German photographer who documented the scenes and events he had witnessed during his stay in this region, and later added short captions to the photos.

The album includes photos of the street scenes; the Jewish cemetery; the figures of the women, children and men; the suffering and the poverty of the Jews; and the exceptional and shocking scenes of the Jewish victims’ deportation as well as the looting of the property.

This publication is a powerful photographic document that presents the end of two Jewish communities and reflects the fate of many other Jewish towns and villages in Poland.

THE PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE HOLOCAUST

Editor: Yitzhak Arad

This extraordinary compilation of photos, maps, and explanatory text is one of the most unique and informative reference works on the Holocaust. After outlining the antisemitic and racist sentiment present in Eastern Europe, Dr. Arad discusses the foundations for Hitler’s twisted beliefs, and then recounts the escalation of Hitler’s ideas. Many of the book’s more than four hundred photographs were taken at a time when such photography was against the law in Germany and its occupied lands.

THE VISIT OF POPE JOHN PAUL II TO YAD VASHEM, JERUSALEM
March 23, 2000

On March 23, 2000, Pope John Paul II paid a historic visit to Yad Vashem. At the Hall of Remembrance the Pontiff delivered his remarks. The Pope’s remarks were intended to affirm the centrality of the Holocaust in the history of the Christian civilization. The Pope called for active, continual remembrance of the Holocaust, not only in empathy for the victims of the Holocaust but also as a principal goal for the individual human being who wishes to struggle against evil.

YAD VASHEM
Moshe Safdie: The Architecture of Memory

Articles by Joan Ockman, Moshe Safdie, Avner Shalev, Elie Wiesel

Yad Vashem was established in 1953. In 1957 a first building opened with administration, archive, and library facilities, followed in 1961 by the ceremonial Hall of Remembrance and a basic exhibit. A museum was inaugurated in 1973, and over the years a series of institutional spaces, memorials, gardens, and artworks were added. This culminated in Spring 2005 with the inauguration of a museum of Holocaust history and ancillary structures designed by Moshe Safdie. This book explores how architecture copes with commemoration.

Este proyecto pionero de investigación consiste en una recolección sistemática de estudios existentes, información histórica, testimonios y documentos, que se refieren a más de 1.100 guetos, diseminados en su mayoría en Europa oriental. Este material presenta las diferencias entre los distintos guetos y descubre los cambios radicales que tuvieron lugar en la vida judía comunitaria e individual.

Los artículos incluyen la ubicación, los nombres durante la guerra y las coordenadas geográficas de cada gueto. En los guetos más grandes la información consta de las siguientes secciones: el período de preguerra; la ocupación soviética; la ocupación alemana (nazi); la organización del gueto; sus instituciones y vida interna; asesinatos, aterrorización y operaciones de matanza de los habitantes del gueto; movimientos clandestinos y resistencia; el número de sobrevivientes en la liberación.

Finalista en el Premio Nacional de Estados Unidos al mejor Libro Judío en la categoría de Estudios del Holocausto y elegido para la lista de libros RBB / Selección del Editor: Premio a fuentes de referencia.

2 tomos: 586 y 558 páginas respectivamente, tapa dura, 22X28 cm.

SHOÁ
Enciclopedia del Holocausto

SHOÁ – Enciclopedia del Holocausto presenta al público de habla castellana una amplia y comprehensiva información, actualizada en base a serias investigaciones de las ciencias históricas y sociales, tanto de los hechos como de las circunstancias históricas que hicieron posible ese monstruoso crimen. Las investigaciones abarcan también las actitudes y posiciones de los países de América Latina ante el genocidio del pueblo judío, lo cual constituye una importante innovación en el ámbito de los estudios sobre la SHOÁ.

CON LAS MANOS ATADAS
El liderazgo sionista y el Holocausto, 1939–1945

Dina Porat

Este estudio de Dina Porat se destaca entre los trabajos publicados por su generación, tanto por los temas controversiales que aborda como por el nivel académico de su investigación y la honestidad intelectual de su presentación. Las conclusiones de Porat, libres en la medida de lo posible de posturas ideológicas, no pretenden ser definitivas, lo que demuestra la sensibilidad de la autora a los temas tratados. Al mostrarnos de manera notable la compleja gama de actitudes de los dirigentes de la Tierra de Israel ante los hechos en Europa. [Saúl Friedlander]

ENTRE LA ACEPTACIÓN Y EL RECHAZO
América Latina y los refugiados judíos del nazismo

Editado por Avraham Milgram

Esta colección de artículos investiga las políticas inmigratorias de los gobiernos latinoamericanos con respecto a los refugiados judíos del nazismo en los años 1933–1942. Incluye bibliografía, fotografías e índice.

«Es una seria contribución a la escasa literatura existente sobre el tema, proyectando la política de restricción a la inmigración sobre un amplio panorama doméstico e internacional... » [Allen Wells, The Americas, 61:2, octubre de 2004]

REFLEXIONES SOBRE EL HOLOCAUSTO
Yehuda Bauer

Yehuda Bauer, uno de los más importantes historiadores del Holocausto, presenta un análisis concienzudo e invita al lector a profundizar la comprensión de su historia y sus significados, con una perspectiva honesta y también crítica de los planteos realizados en el pasado por otros investigadores y por él mismo. Bauer sugiere nuevos enfoques de temas fundamentales de la investigación del Holocausto abordando preguntas difíciles: ¿Qué fue el Holocausto y cómo se lo puede explicar? ¿Es posible compararlo con otros casos de genocidio? ¿Cómo reaccionaron los judíos? ¿Cómo se explica el Holocausto desde diferentes perspectivas judías? ¿Qué relación hay entre el Holocausto y el establecimiento del Estado de Israel?

EL LIBRO NEGRO

Vasili Grossman y Ilyá Ehrenburg

Cuando el 22 de junio de 1941 el ejército alemán cruzó la frontera de la Unión Soviética dio comienzo uno de los más espeluznantes episodios de la Segunda Guerra Mundial – el exterminio de diversos pueblos, y muy principalmente del pueblo judío. Vasili Grossman e Ilyá Ehrenburg compilaron los testimonios de los supervivientes para que el mundo conociera la insondable magnitud del horror. Cientos de testimonios llegados a sus manos o recogidos por medio de entrevistas a las víctimas sirvieron para erigir un monumento hecho de sangre y heroísmo, el de quienes padecieron el encierro en los guetos y tomaron el camino de la ejecución; el de los pocos que se atrevieron a desafiar a los verdugos.

“ESTAS SON MIS ÚLTIMAS PALABRAS…”
Cartas póstumas del Holocausto

Editado por Walter Zwi Bacharach

“Estas son mis últimas palabras…” es una sentencia que se repite una y otra vez más en este volumen único de cartas escritas por aquellos que no sobrevivieron el Holocausto. Las cartas, descubiertas durante los últimos 60 años, estuvieron guardadas por las familias y amigos de las víctimas, y finalmente recogidas por Yad Vashem. Estas cartas fueron enviadas desde los guetos, estuvieron escondidas en vagones de ganado, en estaciones de trenes y contrabandeadas de los campos de concentración.

HAGADÁ DE PÉSAJ DEL CAMPO DE GURS
Pésaj 5701/1941: La historia de un campo de detención en Francia

Editado por Bella Gutterman y Naomi Morgenstern

Edición facsímil de un manuscrito con ilustraciones de la Hagadá de Pésaj del campo de concentración de Gurs (Francia), en donde prisioneros judíos celebraban la fiesta de la libertad detrás de los alambres de púa. La mortalidad era muy elevada debido a las condiciones de vida inhumanas, bajo frío glacial, comida escasa, arenas movedizas, y barracas que apenas otorgaban abrigo. En el verano de 1942 la mayoría de los internados fueron trasladados a Drancy, y de allí a Auschwitz.

PLEGARIAS DE ROSH HASHANA 5705
Campo de Trabajo Forzado, Wolfsberg, Alemania, 1944

Editado por Bella Gutterman y Naomi Morgenstern

Edición facsímil de las plegarias de Año Nuevo escritas de memoria por el cantor litúrgico húngaro Naftali Stern, sobre trozos de papel de sacos de cemento en el campo de trabajos forzados de Wolfsberg. Éste era un campo subsidiario del complejo de campos de trabajos forzados de Gross Rosen, en el cual existían condiciones de vida particularmente difíciles. Aún bajo las mas severas condiciones los judíos continuaron celebrando sus festividades.

DESTELLOS DE MEMORIA
La fotografía durante el Holocausto

La exposición muestra un registro visual del Holocausto desde tres perspectivas: de los alemanes, de las víctimas judías y de los liberadores. Cuando esto se remite al registro visual como documento histórico, se requiere la referencia a los detalles de las evidencias. Por eso, estas fotografías y películas están acompañadas por datos y explicaciones acerca de la visión de mundo de dicho fotógrafos, las circunstancias que los llevaron a seleccionar los objetos a fotografiar y sus metas.

TESTIGOS SILENCIOSOS
HISTORIA DE OBJETOS DE LA COLECCIÓN DE YAD VASHEM

Haviva Peled-Carmeli

Durante años, la mayoría de los sobrevivientes del Holocausto no eran conscientes del valor público del objeto que habían tenido en sus manos: un peine, un fragmento de papel, una muñeca, un dibujo, un costurero. Esta colección de artículos auténticos, remanentes del sufrimiento humano, revela las historias detrás de los objetos, en un intento de conservar y perpetuar las vidas y las almas de sus dueños, y constituye un monumento recordatorio a las personas asesinadas.

Maxi Librati

Mardochée Maxi Librati, jeune juif sépharade de la communauté de la banlieue de Lyon, il se retrouve seul face à la barbarie nazie. À Auschwitz-Birkenau, il pense naïvement qu’il va travailler. Il a été sélectionné pour nettoyer le ghetto de Varsovie, ensuite il échappera à la mort dans les marches de Varsovie-Kovno et de Dachau à Kaufering. C’est après une dernière marche Kaufering-Allach qu’il sera libéré par les américains.

LA HAGGADAH DE PESSAH DU CAMP DE GURS
Pessah 1941

Editée par Bella Gutterman et Naomi Morgenstern

Edition facsimilée d’un manuscrit et de dessins d’une Haggadah de Pessah du camp d’internement de Gurs, où les prisonniers Juifs avaient célébré la sortie d’Egypte derrière les barreaux. Le taux de mortalité était extrêmement élevé, en raison des conditions inhumaines de détention. De l’été 1942, la majorité des prisonniers fut transférée à Auschwitz.

AFIN QUE SACHE LA JEUNE GÉNÉRATION…

TESTIMONIANZA
Memoria della Shoah a Yad Vashem

Curato da: Bella Gutterman e Avner Shalev

Il nuovo complesso museale di Yad Vashem è stato progettato per rispondere alle variabili necessità delle diverse generazioni e per fungere da ponte tra il mondo che è stato distrutto e la vita che è ripresa. Il complesso raccoglie le vaste conoscenze accumulate nella ricerca sulla Shoah e colloca in primo piano, nell'esposizione permanente, l'individuo – l'essere umano, e in particolare l'ebreo – e il mosaico di quella che era la vita ebraica prima della seconda guerra mondiale. Questo volume guida il lettore attraverso gli eventi seguendo lo stesso criterio con cui sono esposti nel museo di Yad Vashem. Il lettore condividerà lo sbigottimento degli studiosi della Shoah alle prese con il tentativo di spiegare la pressoché totale disponibilità degli essere umani ad accettare i dettami di un'ideologia obbrobriosa e a commettere senza scrupoli di sorta uno sterminio di massa.

PORTUGUESE
O HOLOCAUSTO
As Perguntas Mais Frequentes

Editores: Avraham Milgram e Robert Rozett

O Holocausto é um fenômeno que ocorreu entre os anos 1933–1945 abrangendo um grande número de países, povos e culturas. Motivado por uma ideologia racial genocidal nazista, resultou no assassinato de quase seis milhões de judeus europeus, principalmente em campos de exterminio construídos para este fim. O tema do Holocausto nos atrai e nos deixa perplexos por várias razões, entre elas pela condescendência pela qual milhões na Alemanha e em outros países ocupados se dispuseram a participar, direta ou indiretamente, na perseguição, expulsão e morte dos judeus. Como foi humanamente possível? Apesar do Holocausto ser recorrente na mídia e na cinematografia, ele é de fato pouco conhecido. As perguntas e respostas que se encontram nesta publicação são de fácil entendimento e proporcionam uma breve introdução para quem deseja ter uma aproximação ao que foi o Holocausto ou mesmo ampliar seus conhecimentos a esse respeito.

Preludiul la asasinat
Pogromul de la Iaşi, 29 iunie 1941

Jean Ancel

La o săptămână după ce trupele germane şi române au atacat Uniunea Sovietică, comunitatea evreilor din oraşul Iaşi, aflată în apropierea frontului, a fost zguduită de un pogrom de mari proporţii, iniţiat de autorităţile româneşti, cu sprijinul trupelor germane aflate în oraş. Pe lângă miile de evrei ucişi în cele două zile ale măcelului (29-30 iunie 1941), alte mii de evrei au pierit în sinistrele « trenuri ale morţii ». Pe baza unei vaste documentaţii inedite, istoricul Jean Ancel a reconstituit întreaga pregătire şi desfăşurare a masacrului (evaluat la peste 14.000 de victime), responsabilitatea autorităţilor de la Bucureşti în frunte cu Ion Antonescu, ca şi întregul mecanism de falsificare sau distrugere a documentelor pentru a disculpa pe cei vinovaţi de organizarea şi executarea măcelului.

Sub spectrul distrugerii
Amintiri din Transnistria şi din timpul emigrării ilegale în Ereţ Israel 1941-1947

Yosef Govrin

Yosef Govrin (Gurvitz) s-a născut la Cernăuţi (Bucovina de Nord), a copilărit la Edineţ (Basarabia). El avea 10 ani când trupele Germane şi Române au ocupat aceste zone, la începutul lunii Iulie 1941. El şi părinţii lui au reușit să se salveze, după ce trupele Româneşti au masacrat mii de evrei la ocuparea localităţii, însă au fost deportaţi împreună cu toţi evreii care au supravieţuit masacrul, spre Transnistria. Tatăl său a fost ucis mişcător pe drum de călării români. Yosef și mama sa au ajuns la ghetoul Moghilev, prima și ultima etapă a calvarului trăit în Transnistria. Aici au suferit de foame permanentă, pătind de primejdia declansării acțiilor, a epidemielor și a brutalităților autorităților românești.
